From the expressed satisfaction of the planters they feel that their efforts and methods have been appreciated, and that the question of their remaining in Bethel depends wholly upon the amount of acreage pledged this fall. They wish at least, 150 acres as it is necessary in making cans to arrange as to quantity of tin plate months ahead.

Lumbering Forecast.

An important deal was consummated at Bethel when L. L. Mason formerly of Bethel but now of Portland, purchased of Mr. E. I. Brown, a well known lumberman and timber-land owner of this section, a one-half interest in common of what is known as Mt. Abram Town, in Franklin county. This deal covers 13,000 acres of heavily timbered territory. Before the recent deal Mr. R. I. Melcher of Andover, and Mr. Mason, each owned one-quarter part in common. By acquiring Mr. Brown's interest Mr. Mason becomes owner of three-fourths of this valuable tract. It is understood that the price paid by Mr. Mason was well up in the thousands. On the tract is said to be some 50 million spruce, 20,000 cords of white birch, and large quantities of other kinds of timber. The tract is mostly covered with virgin forest and is one of the few tracts of its kind in the State. The Franklin & Megantic railroad runs a branch within one mile of the land and a line is surveyed four miles beyond, extending into the heart of the country. Mr. Mason while residing in Bethel was largely engaged in lumbering and timber-lands. He now has in Portland a large and well established business in which he handles the manufactured products of many mills and acts as manufacturer's agent in many special lines. He has also continued to buy timber-lands and now owns quite largely in them. Mr. Mason is largely interested in valuable timber tracts about Lake Umbagog and elsewhere in northern Oxford.

Mr. Fred L. Edwards of Bethel recently purchased of Kilborn & Herick of Bethel, the Pattee mill property in Albany, together with some 1500 to 2000 acres of timber-land. The territory is well timbered and will probably be operated by Mr. Edwards or others. Mr. Edwards owns extensively in timber-lands in Bethel and vicinity, having acquired last season a large tract near Bethel village, of his father, Col. C. S. Edwards. During the coming winter he will operate extensively and will also buy pulp-timber on the river near Bethel. Mr. Edwards will probably handle 4000 cords of pulp the coming season. Much of this will be cut from lands of R. J. Virgin in and about Bethel, the stumpage on which lands has been purchased by Mr. Edwards. Much of this timber will be cut and hauled by contractors, although Mr. Edwards will do considerable operating under his own supervision.

The breezy man may not have the means of making a draft on a bank.

The Columbian Club's Red Letter Day.

There was a special feature of interest to the members of the Columbian Club on their last day of meeting.

The life of Michael Angelo had just been finished and the Browning reading was about to begin when the president, who was also hostess for the day, presented Miss Maria T. Whitney of Cambridge, Mass., to the Columbian Club of Bethel as a guest whose presence had special significance as Miss Whitney had, many years ago, been the guest of the Brownings in Florence.

As a young girl Miss Whitney had the great pleasure of being one of a traveling party in Europe which had also the honor of having Harriet Beecher Stowe as a member. With Mrs. Stowe, Miss Whitney was invited to the old Florentine palace called Casa Guidi which was then, and for many years afterwards, the home of Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning, the most famous pair of married poet-lovers the world has ever seen. This palace is immortalized by the poem of Mrs. Browning called, "Casa Guidi Windows."

Miss Whitney gave some interesting word-pictures of an evening spent in the large, dark, book-lined library of the old palace, made bright with flowers, and by the famous friends of this wonderful host and hostess. None will forget the story of how Browning effaced himself as a poet in his pride as the husband of a poet and spared her all possible fatigue of entertaining, by being the genial, hearty English host—more like an English squire than a poet—something after the style of our own Lowell.

We seemed to see Mrs. Browning with the soft curls softening the thin face, and the wonderful eyes redeeming it from plainness; the slender figure simply dressed in a dark silk, and to hear the gentle voice uttering gracious words, that have come down to us in this far away land and time as soft benedictions, as she drew some flowers from a vase to bestow upon the young American girl.

The little golden-haired son was brought in to meet the guests and, to quote Miss Whitney, "looked like the child of poets."

Mary Somerville was there that night, also the mother of the Trollops, that famous family of novelists, and Robert Dale Owen.

The next day Miss Whitney walked through the famous art galleries of Florence with Robert Browning as guide.

Seen through Miss Whitney's eyes the Brownings were very real to some Bethel people last Friday afternoon, and when at the next meeting the study of the drama begins there will be a fresh accession of interest added to the enthusiasm already pervading the Club due to this most fortunate visit from one with so much to bestow.

Oxford Congregational Conference.

Oct. 22-23, the Oxford County Congregational Conference met with the church in Gilead. As this church had been without a settled pastor for some years previous to the pastorate now so ably filled by Rev. W. H. Hotze, the meeting of the churches here had an unusual significance.

The cozy little church, which has been so neatly and prettily repaired during the past year through the efforts of the ladies, the natural beauty of the surrounding country, and above all, the unlimited hospitality of the pastor and wife and the pleasant homes there, all conspired to give a welcome. From the first the very atmosphere breathed the spirit of welcome, which was felt throughout the whole session.

The moderator being absent, Rev. Arthur Varley of Bethel, was chosen to fill his place. The faithful scribe of many years, Mr. W. H. Eastman of East Sumner, was present. The opening sermon by Rev. W. C. Adams of Gorham, N. H., had for its theme "Individual Responsibilities to God," and this seemed the key note of all the meetings. The topic "Is the Spirit of God present in the church today?" was discussed by Rev. Bates Rideout and Rev. Dr. Brooks, in an earnest manner.

"How to teach the Old Testament" was the topic opened by Rev. Arthur Varley. The interest and thought expressed by both pastors and lay men was proof that these are days when men and women are no longer confined to narrow limits, but thoughts as to methods of work are broad and various.

In the evening following the praise service, Rev. Chas. Whitaker, general missionary for Maine, spoke particularly of the work in Upton, Upper and Lower Magalloway and Errol, N. H. Through the efforts of Rev. F. E. Rand, it has been made possible to build two churches in Magalloway and there is a hopeful outlook. The need of a general missionary in the region so long occupied by the Oxford Conference was emphasized. Rev. George Allechin, a laborer in the missionary fields in Japan, held the audience spell-bound, as he so vividly told of his work, its methods and its success. He gave as a most successful way to become interested in missions, first, read missionary biography, then give one's self to personal work, take the nearest duty first. Mr. Allechin has adapted many of our American hymns to the Japanese language, and kindly sang several of them to the delight of his listeners.

Wednesday morning after the business of the Conference and the reports of the churches, Rev. J. B. Carttubers gave a most stirring address on the relation of the churches to the temperance movement. From actual facts stated there is need to be alert and thoroughly awake to our responsibilities.

Rev. F. E. Rand gave the report of his labors in our county, and the outlook is very hopeful in some of the parts of our county, especially where work has not been carried on before by this denomination.

All who listened to the topics upon the Sunday school by Rev. T. D. Davis, and the discussion by members of the Conference, were impressed that there should not be the indifference that is now manifested along this line of our church work.

Harrington L. Plummer who so acceptably supplied the pulpit at Albany last summer, spoke of the place of the Y. P. S. C. E. in church work. Three points especially emphasized were, Consecration, Personal Work, Outside Work.

The afternoon session was one of deep impressiveness. Rev. F. E. Newport preached a sermon, subject "Jesus in Gethsemane," which was a most fitting preparative for the communion service which followed, and was the closing service of the Conference.

All came away from the little town nestled among the hills, with grateful hearts to the kind people who had been unstinted in their welcome and hospitality, and also brought the thought more deeply impressed of the need of a deeper consecration to the work of the Master, and the hope also that our "tarrying together" had left a blessing with the church in Gilead and its kind people.

A Birthday Celebration.

Miss Amorita Mueller's nineteenth birthday, on the twenty-ninth, was made the occasion for a delightful dinner-party, with table decorations of pink chrysanthemums, carnations, smilax, and pink shaded flower-candles.

The dinner cards were specially designed and painted for the eight guests by Miss Alice Gordon Wright of Portland.

Quick Answer.—"Paw, what is stage fright?" asked the boy, opening his bag of peanuts. "Stage fright?" repeated his father, pointing to a veteran of the chorus: "Why, there is one."

FOOT-BALL.

Gould's Academy foot-ball eleven played Rumford Falls, last Saturday, at Rumford Falls, the game resulting in a tie, neither side scoring.

The game itself was rather uninteresting on account of the constant fumbling and scrapping.

Gould's fumbling was the most costly, and if it had not been for it they would have scored once at least. Gould's was also weakened by the sprained shoulder which Carlson received in practice, last Tuesday, which prevented him from carrying the ball any during the game.

Gould's line held the best of any game thus far this season, and the formation plays were sure ground gainers, but the fumbling occurred so often that Gould's would only hold possession of the ball two or three minutes at a time.

Gould's kicked off to Rumford, and Stearns by a trick play carried the ball twenty-five yards. Rumford then made their distance twice; Gould's threw Reed back for a loss, and Park could not gain. On the next play Stanley tackled Stearns so hard that the ball rolled out of his arms and Merrill fell on it. Gould's made their distance three times through the line and round the right end. Merrill took the ball and with a good interference ran thirty-five yards, but on the next play it was lost on a fumble. The ball now changed hands several times, time being called with the ball in Gould's possession on Rumford's twenty-five yard line.

In the second half Rumford kicked to Merrill, who fumbled, and the ball bounding back was fallen on by Austin. Rumford now had possession of the ball on Gould's twenty-five yard line. Stearns carried the ball round right end and just outside tackle for successive gains until the ball was on Gould's two-yard line. Here Gould's held for downs but on the first play was forced back for a touchback, and had to take the ball out to the twenty-five yard line and kick off to Rumford. Gould's held for downs and Merrill made his distance several times, through tackle, and the ball was in Gould's possession on Rumford's thirty yard line when time was called.

Thoughts on the Death of President Lincoln.

The following verses, written by Gen. Allen, father of Mrs. Sarah M. Russell, who resides on Broad St., were recently handed to us for reprint. Although written on the death of Lincoln, they seem equally appropriate now.

BY ALLEN G. ALLEN.

A great man has fallen, and gone to the tomb, The heavens seem darkened, and earth filled with gloom;

His counsel no longer in safety will guide The statesman and warrior who stood by his side;

For treason has lifted an impious hand, And slain the Chief Ruler, the pride of the land.

The nation profusely is shedding her tears, And sadness, deep sorrow, and anguish appears;

The hearts that were joyous a short time ago, Are drooping in sadness and unexpressed woe;

For treason has lifted an impious hand, And slain the Chief Ruler, the pride of the land.

By child and by statesman, 'tis sadly expressed, Earth's noblest and purest has gone to his rest;

All nature looks sadly, the earth, sea, and air, Like men in deep sorrow, show signs of despair;

For treason has lifted an impious hand, And slain the Chief Ruler, the pride of the land.

Great God! to thy gracious protection we fly, To Thee in affliction devoutly we cry:

Oh guide us, and guard us, and keep us from harm, In all our dark trials of grief and alarm;

For treason has lifted an impious hand, And slain the Chief Ruler, the pride of the land.

Is it so small a thing To have enjoyed the sun, To have lived light in the spring, To have loved, to have thought, to have done,

To have advanced true friends and beat down bailing foes,

That we must feign a bliss Of doubtful future date And while we dream on this Loss all our present state And relegate to worlds yet distant our repose?

Not much, I know, you prize What pleasures may be had Who look on life with eyes Estranged, like mine, and sad, And yet the village chime tells the truth more than you

Who's loath to leave this life Which to him little yields; His hard task'd, embowed wife, His often labor'd fields;

The hours with whom he talk'd, the country spots he knew.

But thou, because thou hear'st Men scoff at heaven and fate; Because the gods thou fear'st Fail to make blest thy state, Tremblest and wilt not dare to trust the joys there are.

I say, fear not; life still Leaves human effort scope, But, since life teems with ill, Nurse no extravagant hope. Because thou must not dream, thou need'st not then despair. —Matthew Arnold.

Let there be thistles—there are grapes; If old things, were are new! Ten thousand broken lights and shapes, Yet glimpses of the true. —Tennyson.

Strike Action Shifted by Textile Council

Labor Leaders and Manufacturers Look For a Struggle

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 28.—A meeting of the Textile Council, at which all the unions in the city were represented, was held Saturday night. The letter of the manufacturers refusing an advance in wages was discussed at length.

The council decided that it would leave the matter of a strike entirely in the hands of the unions, which action is in line with its previous determination.

This determination has been forecast several days. It was decided to hold general meetings of all the unions next Wednesday night, when action will be taken. A vote to strike is expected. If so it will begin the following Monday morning.

There is strong sentiment here against a strike because of the effect it will have on all classes of business. The manufacturers, however, look forward to a strike, as do the labor leaders.

It is possible that the Spinnery's union may not vote to strike, in view of the similar action taken by them before the postponement of the strike.

This, however, will have no bearing upon the action of the other unions, as it has been decided that in case four of the five unions vote to strike the vote shall become operative.

The manufacturers look at it as a contest between themselves and M. C. D. Borden and not between the owners of the mills and their employees.

Yet if a contest is brought about the matter will not be between Mr. Borden and the other manufacturers, but between the operatives and the mill owners of this city.

Shamrock on the Market

New York, Oct. 24.—Sir Thomas Lipton has determined to sell Shamrock II and she is now on the American market. Before Sir Thomas left New York for Chicago the defeated challenger was placed in the hands of Messrs. Tams, Lemoine & Crane of this city, with orders to sell her. What Sir Thomas asks for the yacht is, of course, not known outside of those interested, but the price, it is said, is not of a prohibitory character, if some wealthy American yachtsman should want such a racing craft.

No Longer a Priest

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Father Jeremiah J. Crowley, late pastor of St. Mary's church at Oregon, Ill., has been excommunicated by Archbishop Peelan of the Chicago diocese. The order of dismissal was the result of attacks made by Father Crowley upon fellow pastors of the Catholic faith, and charges of favoritism, fraud and cruelty which he made at the time Father Muldoon was consecrated as auxiliary bishop of the Chicago diocese.

Again With Republicans

Reno, Nev., Oct. 28.—United States Senator John P. Jones of Nevada announces that evolutions of political issues have placed him again in alignment with the Republican party. "I have suffered no change in any of the convictions I have entertained in the past," said the senator, "and my return to the Republican party does violence to none of those convictions."

Butler Was Indiscreet

London, Oct. 23.—Sir Redvers Buller has been relieved of the command of the First Army Corps in consequence of the speech he made at a luncheon given in his honor by the King's Royal Rifles dealing with his famous dispatch to General White at Ladysmith. He has been placed on half pay and General French has been appointed to succeed him.

Drawbar Gave Way

Clinton, Mass., Oct. 28.—A special freight train on the Boston and Maine railroad was wrecked near Lancaster yesterday. The dropping of a drawbar sent three flat cars across the highway at Dolphin's crossing and the track was torn up for a long distance. The loss to the railroad company will probably reach $5000.

Executions by Strangulation

Havana, Oct. 25.—Andres Rodriguez and Aniceto O'Farrell, negro murderers, were executed yesterday by the garrote. A fellow prisoner acted as executioner, receiving an ounce of gold for each execution, together with a reduction of six years in the term for which he was imprisoned. Death was apparently instantaneous.

China Dicker with Russia

Shanghai, Oct. 25.—It is reported here that the empress dowager is anxious to enter into friendly relations with Russia, which power has promised to prevent all foreign aggression and to protect the empress dowager at Peking.

The Duty of Mothers.

What suffering frequently results from a mother's ignorance; or more frequently from a mother's neglect to properly instruct her daughter!

Tradition says "woman must suffer," and young women are so taught. There is a little truth and a great deal of exaggeration in this. If a young woman suffers severely she needs treatment, and her mother should see that she gets it.

Many mothers hesitate to take their daughters to a physician for examination; but no mother need hesitate to write freely about her daughter or herself to Mrs. Pinkham's Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and secure from a woman the most efficient advice without charge.

Mrs. August Palzgraf, of South Byron, Wis., mother of the young lady whose portrait we here publish, wrote in January, 1890, saying her daughter had suffered for two years with irregular menstruation—had headache all the time, was generally miserable. She received an answer promptly with advice, and under date of March, 1890, the mother writes again that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her daughter of all pains and irregularity.

Nothing in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's great medicine for regulating woman's peculiar monthly troubles.

ROBBERS AT HAVERHILL

Enter a House, Assault Owner, and Escape on Freight Train

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 28.—A daring attempt at robbery was made by three men at the house of John Donovan on Eighth avenue, when they entered the house by means of false keys and lay in wait for the owner, snatching him and assaulting him upon his entrance. The would-be robbers obtained entrance to the house some time before midnight and at 12:25 Sunday morning Mr. Donovan, who does business as a fruit vendor, returned home and was immediately set upon by the men and beaten severely. He shouted lustily for help and his cries attracted the attention of persons in the vicinity who broke into the house and frightened the intruders away. Two of the latter were badly bitten on the hands by Donovan as they were attempting to escape.

They made their exit from the house by jumping through a window, taking the whole sash with them. The police found that the men boarded a freight train which left at 1 o'clock for Lawrence.

The Lawrence authorities made a search of the train when it arrived there, but learned that the men had been seen to leave the train near the Lawrence bridge, and all trace of them has been lost. The men are known to the police, however, and their early capture is considered probable.

It declares that since the king's accession three operations have been performed. The injured epithelium now having become a cancerous growth, and serious developments are expected."

At Least Twenty-One Killed

Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—A large force of workmen was kept engaged yesterday in clearing away the debris at the scene of Friday's fatal fire. No bodies have been found since midnight Saturday, when the 21st victim of the fire was recovered from the ruins. The police and fire officials believe that some of the missing may still be in the ruins.

Rescued by Government Boat

Portland, Me., Oct. 25.—The U. S. S. Woodbury, while cruising to the eastward yesterday, fell in with the disabled schooner Centennial of St. John, from Portsmouth for Boston, loaded with spices. The Centennial would doubtless have blown to sea but for the timely assistance rendered by the Woodbury, which brought her to this port.

Indictment Warrants Out For Smith and Swift

Brother of One of the Fugitives Says They Will Not Surrender

Boston, Oct. 26.—Indictment warrants against Albert G. Smith and Louis H. Swift, the defaulting teller and book-keeper respectively of the Merchants' National bank of Lowell have been returned in the United States court before Judge Lowell. Their contents are of a secret nature and in the usual course of events will not become known until the defaulters are in custody. It is generally supposed, however, that the indictments contain charges against the men similar to those which are found in the bench warrants which were issued a few days ago. In the latter Swift was accused of making false entries on the books and also with abstracting $500,000 of the bank's funds. Smith, so it is alleged, was charged with embezzlement and also with abstracting $500,000.

United States Marshal Darling and Deputy Marshal Waters are still hard at work trying to get some trace of the defaulters, and now that the indictments are out against the men they will follow them with renewed activity.

Colonel Darling has thought from the first that the men were not far distant from Boston and that their arrest would be an easy matter, but yesterday it was admitted that at the present time there is absolutely no clue to the whereabouts of the missing men.

William F. Smith of Lowell, a brother of the missing bank teller, says he is sure that his brother and Swift made their escape by sailing from Providence on a vessel. Asked if his belief was the result of conjecture or was based on actual knowledge, Mr. Smith said he formed his opinion from what he had been told by persons who ought to know what has become of the two men.

Speaking further on the subject he said: "In my opinion there is no truth in the story that my brother's friends expect that he and Swift will return and surrender to the authorities. I am satisfied that they are sailing away from the United States as fast as a vessel can carry them, and I do not believe that they will be seen here again of their own free will."

"Do you think they went to New York?" Mr. Smith was asked.

"No," said he, "Providence was the port from which they sailed; they caught a schooner there."

Mr. Smith continued: "I did not find out to what port they probably were going, but I imagined it was to the Bermudas or some West Indian place, if there did not happen to be a vessel sailing for a South American port. When my brother and Louis left Lowell I am satisfied that they went to Boston, and then to Providence as soon as they could get a train. I have no doubt that they were there on Saturday night."

"Then you do not think they had any idea of giving themselves up?"

"They might have when they started, but I am very sure that by the time they got to Providence they changed their minds."

Mr. Smith was asked if he knew anything about the transactions that the clerks had with counsel in arranging for the return of the securities to the bank. He said he had not heard any of the circumstances which attended the meeting of the men and their counsel. He assumed, from what he had been told, that the general consultation over the deal was in Providence.

The missionaries on the spot are expected to conclude the business with the utmost despatch.

Alberto Convicted of Murder

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 23.—The jury in the case of Charles Alberto, charged with the murder of his wife in Holyoke, Mass., Sept. 1, 1900, returned a verdict of guilty in the second degree last evening. The killing of Mrs. Alberto by her husband was admitted by the defense, but its contention had been that the act was unpremeditated.

The Inquiry.

Tell me, ye winged winds, that round my pathway
Do ye not know some spot where mortals weep no more,
Some lone and pleasant dell, some valley in the west,
Where, free from toil and pain, the weary soul
may rest?
The loud wind whistled to a whisper low
And sigh'd for pity as it answered, "No!"

Tell me, thou mighty deep, whose billows round me play,
Know'st thou some favor'd spot, some island far away,
Where weary man may find the bliss for which he sighs—
Where sorrow never lives and friendship never dies?
The loud waves, rolling in perpetual flow,
Stopp'd for awhile and sigh'd to answer, "No!"

And thou, serenest moon, that, with such a lovely face,
Dost look upon the earth, asleep in night's embrace;
Tell me, in all thy round, hast thou not seen some spot
Where miserable man might find a happier lot?
Behind a cloud the moon withdrew in awe,
And a voice, sweet, but sad, responded, "No!"

Tell me, my secret soul, oh, tell me, Hope and Faith,
Is there no resting place from sorrow, sin and death?
Is there no happy spot where mortals may be blest?
Where grief may find a balm and weariness a rest?
Faith, Hope and Love, best boons to mortals given,
Waved their bright wings and whisper'd, "Yes;
in heaven!"

—Charles Mackay.

At Last.

When on my day of life the night is falling
And in the winds from unsummed spaces blown
I hear far voices out of darkness calling
My feet to paths unknown,
Thou who hast made my home of life so pleasant,
Leave not its tenant when its walls decay;
O Love Divine, O Hope ever present,
Be thou my strength and stay!

Be near me when all else is from me drifting,
Earth, sky, home's pictures, days of shade and shine,
And kindly faces to my own uplifting
The love which answers mine.

I have but thee, O Father! Let thy spirit
Be with me then to comfort and uphold;
No gate of pearl, no branch of palm I merit,
Nor street of shining gold.

Suffice it if, my good and ill unreckoned
And both forgiven through thy abounding grace,
I find myself by hands familiar beckoned
Unto my fitting place.

Some humble door among thy many mansions,
Some sheltering shade where sin and striving cease,
And flows forever through heaven's green expansions
The river of thy peace.

There, from the music round about me stealing,
I fain would learn the new and holy song
And find at last, beneath thy trees of healing,
The life for which I long.

—Whittier.

How to Keep Preserves.

Keep the jars and cans in a cool,
dark closet where you can have ventilation from door and window. This will keep the jars clean and free from the sticky moisture which makes them so unpleasant to handle. If you have no dark pantry or closet, use paper bags or tack newspapers on the edge of the shelves to exclude the light.

How to Make Graham Muffins.

One quart graham flour, one tablespoonful sugar, one teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful soda, two teaspoonfuls
cream of tartar, one egg, one pint milk.
Sift together flour, sugar, salt, cream of tartar and soda, add beaten egg and milk. Bake in muffin pan in a hot oven 15 minutes.

How to Keep Woolens White.

Among the things that are worth remembering is the fact that beeswax, broken in pieces and put within the folds of white woolens and white silks, will overcome the tendency toward yellow-ness that white fabrics have when laid away for any length of time.

TABLE ETIQUETTE.

How to Eat Without Transgressing
the Rules of Good Manners.

On seating oneself at table gloves, if worn, should be removed and the table napkin opened out and placed on the lap.

Bread may be placed either at the right or left side, according to convenience.

Soup—Only small helpings of soup are given—half a ladleful is generally considered quite enough—and it is eaten as noiselessly as possible from the side of the table.

Fish—This is now eaten with silver knives and forks specially prepared for the purpose. A few years ago fish was eaten off a fork, and a crust of bread took the place of a knife in removing it from the bones. Then this fashion was dropped in favor of two forks, but at the present day fish knives and forks are so general that one seldom has to fall back on such makeshift arrangements.

Only the fork is used for eating ris-soles, omelets and dishes made of minced or small cut meat. The knife is reserved for those viands which require cutting.

When eating sweet dishes, the fork is held in the right hand and is used exclusively, as far as possible. It is only for stewed fruits, milky puddings and other semiliquid dishes that the spoon is called into service.

Asparagus is still eaten by some people in the old style of holding the stalk in the fingers, but the younger generation generally prefers the neater way of cutting off the points with the knife and conveying them on the fork to the mouth.

Salad is generally eaten from a separate plate placed at the left hand side of the main plate.

At dessert apples, pears, etc., are peeled and are then cut up to the right side for eating off a fork. Grapes are conveyed to the mouth by the fingers, and the stones and skins are passed from the mouth to the hand and then laid on the table.

Refinement in eating and drinking cannot be too strongly insisted upon.
Even little children should be taught to place quite small portions of food in their mouths, to keep the lips closed during the process of mastication and never to drink while they have food in their mouths. Drinking while eating often leads to a choking fit both alarming and unpleasant to witness.

Crumbling one's bread, fidgeting with spoon and fork, digging in the salt cellar and other nervous tricks in which some people indulge while talking are all bad habits to be overcome.

How to Boil Tomatoes.

Choose tomatoes of even size and arrange them, blossom end downward, in a saucepan. Add one teaspoonful of salt and enough boiling water to cover.
Boil briskly. They will be done when they can be easily pierced by a sharp tined fork—anywhere from 5 to 15 minutes, according to size. Take up carefully on a skimmer and lay on a heated platter. Cut two gashes crosswise in each, lay on butter the size of a hickory nut, dust with salt, pepper and a very little powdered sugar and serve immediately.

How to Make Frozen Tomato Sauce.

Peel and chop rather fine half a dozen ripe, solid tomatoes; season with salt, white pepper, a tablespoonful of tarragon vinegar and a tablespoonful of some hot meat sauce, such as worcestershire. Freeze the pulp solid in an ice cream freezer. When hard, pack in fancy molds like tomatoes,
pears or apples and let stand two hours in salt and ice; then turn on crisp lettuce leaves. Serve with a spoonful of mayonnaise.

How to Make French Dressing.

French dressing is a mixture of fine olive oil, vinegar or lemon juice, or both; salt, cayenne pepper and onion juice. The following proportions will make enough for one head of lettuce: One tablespoonful of oil, a bit of cayenne, one-half teaspoonful of salt, four drops of onion juice, one teaspoonful of lemon juice and one teaspoonful of vinegar. Mix all together well. It may be used with lettuce, tomatoes, cold meat and to marinate chicken, lobster and crab when they are to be used for salads.

How to Fry Halibut.

Fresh halibut is delicious cut in strips, covered for a half hour with French dressing, drained, dipped in beaten egg and bread crumbs and fried quickly in deep fat. It should be served with sauce tartare.

How to Make Horseradish Sauce.

Add to a cup of freshly grated horseradish a tablespoonful of ground mustard, a tablespoonful of sugar, a level teaspoonful of tumeric and mix with enough French dressing to make the right consistency; season to taste with salt and white pepper; chill before using.

How to Care For Food.

Never put any warm food away in a covered dish. If warm bread or warm cake is shut up in a box, the steam will make molding a swift and sure result. If warm potatoes are left standing in a covered dish, they will quickly become so heavy and soggy as to be unfit for use. As a general rule the more quickly food of any kind, but particularly soup, cools, the longer it will keep. The best way to care for cheese is to wrap it in a piece of linen and shut it up in a box.

FUR COATS.

THE HOME GOLD CURE

An Ingenious Treatment by which Drunkards are Being Cured Daily in Spite of Themselves.

No Noxious Doses. No Weakening of the Nerves. A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liquor Habit.

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkenness is a disease and not a weakness.

A body filled with poison, and nerves completely shattered by periodical or constant use of intoxicating liquors, requires an antidote capable of neutralizing and eradicating this poison, and destroying the craving for intoxicants. Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by this wonder- ful "HOME GOLD CURE" which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvellous trans- formation of thousands of Drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

"WIVES CURE YOUR HUSBANDS!! CHILDREN CURE YOUR FATHERS!!" This remedy is in no sense a nostrum but is a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of Drunkards have cured themselves with this priceless remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by having the "CURE" administered by loving friends and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe to-day that they discontinued drinking of their own free will. DO NOT WAIT. Do not be deluded by apparent and misleading "improvement." Drive out the disease at once and for all time. The "HOME GOLD CURE" is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, thus placing within reach of everybody a treatment more effectual than others costing $25 to $50. Full directions accompany each package. Special advice by skilled physicians when requested without extra charge. Sent prepaid to any part of the world on receipt of One Dollar. Address Dept. A 751 EDWIN B. GILES & CO., 242 N. 23rd and 2332 Market Street, Philadelphia.

ANDOVER.

We hear everyone saying "What beautiful weather!"

Mrs. Willard Newhall, Mr. L. Melcher and Mr. C. T. Pool attending the Food Fair in Boston. We are expecting something in the cooking line on their return.

The Gregg House, which has lately been purchased by J. Whitney, is undergoing thorough repairs; the work is in charge of Mr. W. G. Cushman. The buildings have all been newly shingled and painted which makes a great improvement. W. S. Newhall, Mr. A. Elliott are doing the painting. Mr. Whitney is a wealthy man and Andover is to have such men locate here.

Andover is expecting a very large library building, given by Andrew Carnegie, the steel millaire of Pennsylvania. It is something that is needed very much. A library with five thousand volumes is something that many places, many times larger than Andover, cannot boast of.

Mrs. Daniel Berry fell and severely injured herself, breaking her leg in two places. It seems very hard for her as she has always been very well and active.

Sunday was observed as Harvest Sunday at the Congregational church, appropriate services being held. The church was well decorated with all kinds of farm products.

The Pin Party of Friday evening, was quite like socials in general save that pins were much in evidence. An essay on pins by Miss Belle Sampson, gave an account of the different stages of work necessary to produce a perfect pin; at its conclusion all wondered that pins could be obtained at so little cost. The "Story of a Pin" by Nellie Howard, related the many adventures and vicissitudes which happily terminated in the "visit to a Pin Party at Union vestry." The violins of Miss Belle Sampson and J. C. Saunders were well attuned, and accompanied by the organ, cheered us frequently during the evening. The pin contests were contested by all and the prizes satisfactorily awarded. Some conundrums served to test the skill of all, and none went unanswered.

A recitation on "Pins" by Master Ernest Bisbee, and also a recitation on pins by Master Alva Chapman, were well recited. Refreshments of cake, chocolate and coffee were served, after which the young friends betook themselves to various games.

C. W. Godwin has purchased the farm formerly belonging to Dell Smith. Mr. Smith has purchased a house at Rumford Falls.

Salt Rheum

It may become chronic.

It may cover the body with large, inflamed, burning, itching, scaling patches and cause intense suffering. It has been known to do so.

Do not delay treatment.

Thoroughly cleanse the system of the humors on which this ailment depends and prevent their return.

The medicine taken by Mrs. Ida E. Ward, Cove Point, Md., was Hood's Sarsaparilla. She writes: "I had a disagreeable itching on my arms which I concluded was salt rheum. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and in two days felt better. It was not long before I was cured and I have never had any skin disease since."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Promises to cure and keeps the promise. It is positively unequalled for all cutaneous eruptions. Take it.

Mob Got After Clergyman Who Made Liquor Raid

Other News of Interest From Various Parts of New England States.

Portland, Me., Oct. 28.—Rev. H. T. Skillings, one of Sheriff Pearson's liquor deputies, was roughly handled late Saturday evening by a crowd on Free street, near Center street. Deputy Skillings found half a barrel of beer in the rear of a place on Pleasant street and took possession of it. He was met by a sullen but not especially demonstrative crowd.

He was alone and had to take the beer off at once, and he began to roll up the street. A crowd followed him and collected rapidly. When the deputy and his beer reached Free street he was met by a number of men. A soldier from one of the forts gave him a push and at the same time another man hit him under the ear and he went down.

That was the signal for the entire party to pounce on him, and he was roughly handled, kicked and knocked about. He came out of it well covered with bruises and one tooth knocked out. The crowd seized the beer and made off with it. The deputy was unable to recover it and went back to the "arm office" at the city building to attend to his wounds and to report to Sheriff Pearson.

Grieved Over Separation
Meriden, Conn., Oct. 28.—Miss Alice Ellis, a trained nurse, was found dead yesterday in the rear of the residence of the late Dwight P. Wilcox, where she was formerly employed as governess. She had enveloped her head in a black silk bag lying in a pan in which she had placed a quart of chloroform. She was also covered with a golf cape and a flannel bed blanket. Miss Ellis was 41 years old. The only reason that her friends can give for her act is that she was greatly attached to a 6-year-old son of Mr. Wilcox, whom she had taken care of from his birth up to last January, when he was placed with relatives in Westfield.

Abraham's Heavy Forgeries
Boston, Oct. 28.—Doctors attending Leo Abraham at the asylum diagnosed his case as true paresis, and predict that he can live only a short time. There is not, they say, the slightest prospect of recovery. Simultaneous with the news comes the announcement that there are at least 250 forged indorsements on F. Abraham & Co.'s outstanding paper. For months Leo Abraham amused himself by signing the names of men all over Boston to Abraham & Co.'s notes, afterwards selling the paper. New notes with forged indorsements come in every day. The notes now aggregate about $200,000.

Police on the Watch
Boston, Oct. 28.—The South end was alive with police officers Saturday night and last night as a means of protection to people on the street and with the idea of catching the negro highwayman who has robbed a score or more of women. The officers were sent out in ordinary attire and their experiences were about as novel as those of people who were stopped and interrogated. Many arrests were made on suspicion and from among them the police think they have several negro ruffians and a few thieves.

Yale and Columbia at Odds
New Haven, Oct. 28.—Ugly stories are heard about the game between Columbia and Yale Saturday. The Yale students claiming that several of the men on the Columbia eleven were not bona fide students. The Yale football authorities will not make any statement to that effect, but admit that investigation has been started. The Yale coaches do not deny the report that Yale will refuse Columbia a date hereafter.

Family Fled in Night
New London, Conn., Oct. 28.—A large dwelling house owned and occupied by R. T. Palmer Jr., and finally, was totally destroyed by fire early this morning, and the inmates of the building narrowly escaped burning to death. All were compelled to leave in their night clothes. It is believed that the fire was caused by an overloaded furnace. The loss is between $10,000 and $15,000.

Plymouth's Man Hunt
Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 28.—Absolutely nothing positive has been learned by the officers engaged in the search regarding the present whereabouts of Ventura Guilanillo, the Italian wanted for suspected complicity in the murder of Mrs. Lizzie Ferrioli. The country, as far south as Barnstable and from White Island pond to Indian hill, has been carefully gone over.

Five Passengers Hurt
Salem, Mass., Oct. 28.—By the breaking of a brake chain on a car of the Boston and Northern railroad on Washington street hill last night a collision of two cars was caused, resulting in injuries to five persons. All the injured received medical aid at a nearby drug store and were later sent to their homes in cabs.

Victim of a Brute
Quincy, Mass., Oct. 28.—The 7-year-old daughter of Fred E. Hill was seized by a man Saturday afternoon, dragged into a clump of bushes and feloniously assaulted. She is under medical care and her condition is said to be very critical. Her assailant escaped.

Little One Burned to Death
Malden, Mass., Oct. 28.—Dora Dodge, aged 3, with a number of playmates had made a bonfire of leaves and the flames set fire to the little one's clothing. Her parents put out the fire with rugs and blankets, but she died in a short time.

Barnum's Monkeys

"All well—all happy—lots of fun." That is the regular report from the monkey cage of Barnum's Circus ever since the keepers began dosing the monkeys with Scott's Emulsion. Consumption was carrying off two thirds of them every year and the circus had to buy new ones.

One day a keeper accidentally broke a bottle of Scott's Emulsion near the monkey cage and the monkeys eagerly lapped it up from the floor. This suggested the idea that it might do them good. Since then the monkeys have received regular doses and the keepers report very few deaths from consumption. Of course it's cheaper to buy Scott's Emulsion than new monkeys—and that suits the circus men.

Consumption in monkeys and in man is the same disease. If you have it or are threatened with it can you take the hint?

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle. Send for free sample.

Finding in Corrigan Case
New Haven, Oct. 28.—Coroner Mix has returned his finding in the case of the death of Edward P. Corrigan, the Yale law school student, for which Henry Sedley, a Sheffield scientific school freshman, has been held. The finding of the coroner is that Corrigan came to his death by the careless action of Sedley.

A Youthful Suicide
Rristol, Conn., Oct. 28.—Grief over a scolding given him by his mother is supposed to have caused the suicide of Willie Bailey, aged 11, only child of Mrs. George Bailey, of Forestville. His body was found hanging from a beam in a shed connected with the house where he lived with his widowed mother.

Hundred Counts Against Him
Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 28.—An indictment charging embezzlement was returned yesterday by the grand jury against William H. Moore, formerly city clerk of Portsmouth. It is alleged that Moore took $1700 of the city's money. There are 100 counts in the indictment against him.

Neck Broken in Football Game
Columbus, O., Oct. 28.—John Sigrist, center rush of the Ohio State university football team, had his neck broken in the game with Western Reserve. An operation will be performed, but there is little hope that it will avail. Sigrist's body is paralyzed from the shoulders down.

Engineer Holt Bound Over
Trumbull, Conn., Oct. 28.—G. W. Holt, engineer of one of the freight trains in a recent disastrous collision, was arraigned here yesterday on the charge of manslaughter. He was bound over to the December term of the superior court in bonds of $1500.

Met With Foul Play
Concord, N. H., Oct. 28.—It has been determined that the death of Mrs. Charles Tolson, whose body was found beside the road with the skull crushed, in Boscawen, was due to murder and not accident, as was thought it might possibly have been.

The Knights of Pythias dedicated their new monument at Edson cemetery, Lowell, Mass., with appropriate ceremonies.

That section of Gardiner, Mass., near the railroad station narrowly escaped being blown sky-high when a freight train struck a car loaded with gunpowder and derailed it. The car was badly damaged, as well as two cars containing barrels of apples.

Rev. B. G. Cobb, for 35 years pastor of the Congregational church at Florence, Mass., read a letter of resignation to his people, to take effect Dec. 1.

No Evidence of Insanity
Boston, Oct. 28.—Dr. Jelly, the insanity expert, who recently made an examination of Benjamin Brown, the colored waiter who is charged with having murdered Mrs. Alice C. Wells, has reported that there is no evidence of insanity.

WIT AND WISDOM.

Sometimes we are almost tempted to doubt the wisdom of the Creator in spending so much time in creating sorry men so long as good mules are in demand.

"It was almost a miracle. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me of a terrible breaking out all over the body. I am very grateful." Miss Julia Filbridge, West Cornwall, Conn.

Hattie.—He paid me a very pretty compliment. He said all my movements were birdlike.

Only one remedy in the world that will at once stop itchiness of the skin in any part of the body. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Instead of standing around with your hands in your pockets waiting for something to turn up, go and turn it up. It will take less time and be surer done.

A boon to travelers. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Cures dysentery, diarrhoea, seasickness, nausea. Pleasant to take. Acts promptly.

A New One.—"Have you noticed the automobile face?" "No; what expression does it wear?" "The man in the automobile looks as if he wanted to get home alive, but knew he wouldn't."

When you wake up with a bad taste in your mouth, go at once to Wiley's drug store and get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. One or two doses will make you well. They also cure biliousness, sick headache and constipation.

Other animals are also bright, but we hear the most about monkey-shines.

Get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets at Wiley's drug store. They are easier to take and more pleasant in effect than pills. Then their use is not followed by constipation as is often the case with pills. Regular size, 25c. per box.

Some of our young men are so self-important that they think they can rule the world, but they will change their minds after they get married.

The excitement incident to traveling and change of food and water often brings on diarrhoea, and for this reason no one should leave home without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

For sale by G. R. Wiley, Bethel; E. L. Tebbets, Locke Mills; J. W. Bennett, Gilead; H. W. Dennison, West Bethel.

Lady (engaging a new housemaid)—Daphne? That is altogether much too romantic a name, with young men in the house. I suppose you would not object to be called by your surname? Applicant.—Oh, no, ma'am in fact, I am quite used to it. Lady.—What is your surname? Applicant.—Daring.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Henderson Grinnett, of this place, was stricken with partial paralysis and completely lost the use of one arm and side. After being treated by an eminent physician for quite a while without relief, my wife recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using two bottles of it he is almost entirely cured.—Geo. R. McDONALD, Man, Logan county, W. Va. Several other very remarkable cures of partial paralysis have been effected by the use of this liniment. It is most widely known, however, as a cure for rheumatism, sprains and bruises. For sale by G. R. Wiley, Bethel; E. L. Tebbets, Locke Mills; J. W. Bennett, Gilead; H. W. Dennison, West Bethel.

THE CHARM OF LIFE

Is Lost When the Burden is Too Heavy

Life is hardly worth the living with the never-ceasing aches and pains of a bad back. If you would remove the burden of backache, reach the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure sick kidneys, and the cure is lasting. Here is proof of it.

Mr. Israel A. Morse, of 10 Tyng street, Newburyport, a member of the Board of Aldermen for two years, and Common Council for three years, says: "My experience with and opinions of Doan's Kidney Pills which I expressed through our newspapers in 1896, after taking a course of the treatment, have not altered. I value that preparation more highly today than I did when I first published my statement, and that is over three years ago. To my personal experience I can add that of many others in this city who one and all coincide with me in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills act as represented."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

THE LITTLE WILD HEN.

She Feigned Lameness to Draw the Searchers Away From Her Young.

"Papa," cried Floyd, running breathlessly up to his father, who sat reading on the cool veranda at Hillsdale farm, "oh, papa, there's a poor little wild hen down at the edge of the creek meadow, and I guess she's got a lot of little peep chickens, and I'm sure they'll starve to death! She's a little bit of a speckled, plump hen, with almost no neck, and one wing is broken, I'm sure, for she tried so hard to fly and didn't get on at all. And I think she has tiny peep chickens, because Cousin John said 'most a month ago, when we first came to grandpapa's, that she had a nest somewhere in the swale beyond the meadow.'"

"Oh, ho!" said papa, laying aside his book with a very sober face, but with a funny twinkle in his eye. "So John told you about her! Did he say she was a partridge?"

"No, that wasn't the word. It's shorter than that. Why, you know, papa, she's the little hen that keeps saying 'Bobwhite! Bobwhite!' almost every afternoon and evening."

"Yes, I know now," said papa, smiling. "Her name is Mrs. Quail. But it's her mate, my boy, that says 'Bobwhite!' She has been too busy lately hatching her chicks to say anything. But who can have been cruel enough to break her wing? Let us go and see."

They walked briskly across the sweet smelling meadow grass until almost in the shade of the wooded strip beyond. Then they went more slowly and cautiously till Floyd pointed out the spot where he had seen timid Mrs. Quail. She was not there, but as they walked forward into the woods very softly and speaking in whispers she suddenly darted from a clump of ferns almost beneath their feet.

With a whir she shot a few feet into the air and wheeled to the left, but before going a rod she fell to the ground with one wing outstretched and fluttered, along, crying as if in great pain.

"Oh, papa," Floyd exclaimed, almost in tears, "don't let's scare her any more! See how it hurts the poor thing!"

"Very well," said papa, "let us go this other way, to the right, and look carefully under every leaf and beside all the stones. Maybe we can find some of her chicks."

They moved slowly away, but instead of hurrying off in the opposite direction, as she had started, the mother quail came nearer, tried to fly a second time and again fell with a broken wing, only it was the right one this time instead of the left, which had been outstretched before. Her actions seemed to say: "If you want to catch anybody, catch me. I'm wounded and can't get away."

But the two intruders kept right on searching, and all at once the father whispered, "Quick, my boy; come here just as quietly as you can!"

Floyd crawled swiftly to his side and peeped under his arm. There were three grayish brown stones in a row—at least the two outside ones were stones—but on looking close it could be seen that the round ball cuddled between them had a downy surface, with mottled lines set close together, and right in the center were two bright eyes that no one ever saw in a stone. It was a baby quail not more than two or three days old, but sharper at playing hide and seek than a boy or girl of a thousand times that age.

TOMMY'S LESSON.

How the Brush and the Towel Punished a Bad Boy.

The brush and the towel were talking together, and they were all tired out and flustered with the work of getting Tommy Fitzpatrick ready for dinner. You see, Tommy is one of those peculiar boys who seem to think that it's big and nice and manly to give other people trouble and to cry when they can't have their own way, and he does hate being washed and brushed and made neat and tidy. So the brush was overheated and bruised and tumbled and the towel was so weak and slimy that it lay in a little heap.

Besides, they were very sorry for the kind girl whom Tommy calls nurse. "I'd like to get even with that boy," said the brush excitedly. "I'm about tired of being thrown across the room and pounded against the sharp edge of the dresser. Say we get even, Mrs. Towel? Will you help?"

"Yes, indeed, dear Mr. Brush," said the towel quite readily. "We'll let him see what it's like to be so treated. Perhaps it will do him good and help the kind nurse."

You see, the nurse is always good to the brush and the towels. So they were anxious to do something to help her. That night when Tommy was fast asleep in his cot they invaded the nice, quiet dream chamber in which a kind fairy had placed him to slumber, and they picked him up and threw him across the room and pounded him on the sharp edge of the dresser, and crumpled him all up, and twisted him awfully, and pulled him nearly in two pieces, and treated him just as he treated them in his waking moments. Next morning Tommy didn't feel quite so well as usual, but he was very good and quiet when it came time for him to be washed and brushed.

"I dreamed the brush and the towel treated me awfully last night," he told his nurse when he was nearly ready for breakfast.

"Perhaps they did," was the quiet answer. "You certainly deserve it from them, Tommy."

And Tommy has been very good at tidying up times ever since. I think he'd better be, don't you?

Jump Sirup.

We all had bad colds, and a kind friend made us (what she called a "sure cure") some "hop sirup." I gave some to Elma, aged three and a half. The next time she saw me take the bottle in my hand she asked, "Is that the jump sirup, mamma?" "The what?" I asked in surprise. "Is it the jump sirup you gave me for my cold?" "Do you mean the hop sirup?" I asked. "Yes," she replied, with all soberness.—M. L. A., Brooklyn, in Babyhood.

Little Green Frog.

O little green frog, come tell me,
Oh, tell me true,
All the tales that the water peoples
Have told to you,
O little green frog!

Beneath the water's shimmer
The fishes swim.

In a world where the light grows dimmer,
Amid shadows dim,
And the water faeries play there,
Where I cannot go,
Oh, tell me the tales they say there
In that world below,
O little green frog!

After Searching Tests

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy Has Proved Itself to be the Only

Positive Cure for Kidney and Bladder Diseases.

Thousands of requests for free bottles of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy are received nearly everyday by the manufacturers, and upon strict investigation it has been found that no less than 91 out of every hundred of those receiving trial bottles have been so helped by the Remedy sent, that they have bought large sized bottles at their druggists.

It has been proven beyond question that Favorite Remedy is the very best medicine known for diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia Chronic Constipation, and the sicknesses peculiar to women. The manufacturers are prepared to send free trial bottles postpaid to all those who will write, giving their full name and post office address to the Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y., and mention this paper.

Put some of your urine in a glass tumbler; if in 24 hours it has a sediment, or a milky, cloudy condition; if it is pale or discolored, rosy or stringy, you need a good medicine, and Favorite Remedy is the best one you can get. It readily cures such dangerous symptoms as pain in the back, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, scalding burning pain in passing water, staining of your linen by the urine and inability to hold it. Also the unpleasant and dangerous effects produced on the system by the use of whiskey or beer.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is sold at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle, or six bottles for $5.00.

Instructed as to His Duties.

A young clerk in a wholesale house has been spending a large portion of his salary for the last few days buying presents for friends who are "on" to a joke that was perpetrated on him. His employer engaged a new boy, and as soon as the boy came to the establishment he was instructed in his duties by our friend, who had been promoted to the position of assistant bookkeeper and given a small office by himself. About an hour after the boy started in the "boss" came around and, seeing him working, asked:

"Has the assistant bookkeeper told you what to do?"

"Yes, sir," was the prompt reply.

"He told me to wake him up when I saw you coming around."—Albany Journal.

The White Rose.

The white rose was the symbol of silence to the Romans. From its use comes the term known to us as sub rosa ("under the rose"). Later it became the emblem of the English house of York. Red and white roses twined adorned the wedding dress of Henry VII., first of the Tudor kings, whose reign ended the war of the roses.

Animals Before a Storm.

Did you ever watch the actions of cattle before a big storm? If so, you must have seen them grow more and more uneasy as the clouds gathered. You also saw them run up and down the field, as if seeking to escape some impending danger. Finally, when the storm breaks, they draw close together and with lowered heads present a picture of despair.

Domestic animals when it rains always keep indoors or, failing that, they seek shelter by the barn or under trees or beneath the hedges and thickets—in short, in any convenient place where they may not be entirely exposed to the downpour.

It is the same with fowls. They dislike the rain, which soaks their feathers. They seek sheltered places and creep under wagons or behind boxes and boards. Chickens do not mind getting their feet wet, for they will scratch the ground soon after a shower in search of worms and beetles.

Wild birds do their best to keep out of the rain. Some of them build a roof over their nests. Others choose a home under the eaves or under a projecting eave, where they may be safe from the discomfort that the rain brings.

But most of them are without shelter provided in advance by their own forethought. These take refuge in any place that they happen to find at hand. If you watch them before the storm, you will see them looking for such a place. If the storm comes suddenly, the small and helpless ones seem bewildered, flying from tree to tree and from limb to limb, quite unable to make up their minds where to hide.

THE RIGHT THING TO PUT ON.

(Benson's Plaster is Pain's Master.)

From the natural impulse to "put something on" a painful spot all applications for the relief of pain have arisen.

The most successful have ever been poultices or plasters, and the best of these is Benson's Porous Plaster.

No other has anything like the same power as a curative agent; it is highly and scientifically modified, and its standard is advanced year by year.

Use Benson's Plaster for coughs, colds, chest diseases, rheumatism, grip, neuralgia, kidney trouble, lame back, and other ailments that make winter a season of suffering and danger. It relieves and cures quicker than any other remedy.

Do not accept cheap imitations, Strengthening or Belladonna plasters in place of Benson's, as they possess none of its curative power. Insist on having the genuine.

The people of every civilized land have testified for years to the superlative merit of Benson's Plaster; and 5,000 physicians and druggists of this country have declared them worthy of public confidence.

In official comparisons with others, Benson's Plaster has been honored with fifty-five highest awards.

For sale by all druggists, or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States on the receipt of 85c. each. Accept no imitation or substitute.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR.

"Something New Under the Sun."

All Doctors have tried to cure CATARRH by the use of powders, acid gases, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of CATARRH has at last perfected a Treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures CATARRH by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "SNUFFLES" the GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE and is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to perfect its use.

"SNUFFLES" is the only perfect CATARRH CURE ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease. It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve Hay Fever or Cold in the Head.

CATARRH when neglected often leads to CONSUMPTION—"SNUFFLES" will save you if you use it at once. It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete treatment which is positively guaranteed to cure Catarrh in any form or stage if used according to the directions which accompany each package. Don't delay but send for it at once, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost beyond the price of "SNUFFLES" the "Guaranteed Catarrh Cure."

Send prepaid to any address in the United States or Canada on receipt of One Dollar. Address: Dept. A 751, EDWIN B. GILES & COMPANY, 2330 and 2332 Market Street, Philadelphia.

The Bridge.
I stood on the bridge at midnight
As the clocks were striking the hour,
And the moon rose o'er the city,
Behind the dark church tower;
And like the waters rushing
Among the wooden piers,
A flood of years came o'er me
That filled my eyes with tears.
How often, oh, how often,
In the days that had gone by,
I had stood on that bridge at midnight
And gazed on that wave and sky!
How often, oh, how often,
I had wished that that ebbing tide
Would bear me away on its bosom
O'er the ocean wild and wide!

For my heart was hot and restless,
And my life was full of care,
And the burden laid upon me
Seemed greater than I could bear,
But now it has fallen from me,
It is buried in the sea,
And only the memory of others
Throws its shadow over me.
Yet, whenever I cross the river,
On its bridge with wooden piers,
Like the odor of briars from the ocean,
Comes the thought of other years,
And forever and forever,
As long as the river flows,
As long as the heart has passions,
As long as life has woes,
The moon and its broken reflection
And its shadows shall appear
As a symbol of love in heaven
And its wavering image here.

Longing.
Of all the myriad moods of mind
That through the soul come thronging,
Which was e'er so dear, so kind,
So beautiful as Longing?
The thing we long for, we are
For one transcendent moment,
Before the Present poor and bare
Can make its sneering comment.
Still, through our paltry stir and strife
Glow down the wished ideal,
And Longing molds in clay what Life
Carves in the marble Real.
To let the new in, we know,
Desire must ope the portal;
Perhaps the longing to be so
Helps make the soul immortal.

Longing is God's fresh heavenward will
With our poor earthward striving;
We quench it that we may be still
Content with merely living.
But, would we learn that heart's full scope
Which we are hourly wronging,
Our lives must climb from hope to hope
And realize our longing.

Ah, let us hope that to our praise
Good God not only reckons,
The moments when we tread his ways,
But when the spirit beckons,
That some slight good is also wrought
Beyond self satisfaction,
When we are singly good in thought,
Howe'er we fail in action.

Lines and Couplets From Pope.
Manners with fortunes, humors turn with climes,
Tenets with books and principles with times.
Vice is a monster of such hideous mien
That to be hated needs but to be seen;
Yet seen too oft, familiar with her face,
We first endure, then pity, then embrace.

And then mistook reverse of wrong for right.
That secret rare between the extremes to move
Of mad good nature and of mean self love.
Behold the child, by nature's kindly law,
Pleased with a rattle, tickled with a straw;
Some livelier plaything gives his youth delight,
A little louder, but as empty quite.

Ye little stars, hide your diminished rays.
Who builds a church to God and not to fame
Will never mark the marble with his name.
'Tis strange the miser should his cares employ
To gain those riches he can ne'er enjoy.

Fortune her gifts may variously dispose,
And these be happy called, unhappy those;
But heaven's just balance equal will appear
When those are placed in hope and these in fear.

Something there is more needful than expense,
And something previous e'en to taste—'tis sense.
As heaven's blest beams turns vinegar more sour,
Lust through some certain strainers well refined
Is gentle love and charms all womankind.

"But sometimes virtue starves, while vice is fed."
"What, then, is the reward of virtue—bread?"
That vice may merit, 'tis the price of toil,
The knave deserves it when he tills the soil."

How to Whiten Piano Keys.
Piano keys, no matter how old and discolored, may be restored to their original whiteness by the continued use of acid. A cotton flannel cloth saturated with oxalic acid fluid upon them will remove all stains. But great care must be taken not to allow the acid to touch any other part of the piano.

How to Make Spiced Grapes.
Prepare the grapes as for preserving, by removing the skins, boiling the pulp and straining out the seeds. To seven pounds of fruit (weighed before the seeds are removed) add a cupful of strong vinegar, a cupful of the grape juice taken from the grapes used for preserves, two ounces of cinnamon, one ounce of cloves (the spices in a cloth so they can be removed), three and one-half pounds of sugar. Boil until it becomes thick like a marmalade, which will take about an hour and a half. When done, turn it into glasses. This is good with roast meats.

Will Effect a Cure
Marshall, Mich., April 5, 1900
Sanitarium City Electrical Co.:
Gentlemen—Having had a very serious illness with inflammatory rheumatism for nearly a year past, and having received no benefit from the many medicines I had used, and on the persuasion of a friend who had used one of your belts for rheumatism, I purchased one of your belts and have worn it for the past two months, from which I have received more benefit and relief than at any previous time, and feel confident that the continued use will wholly cure me in a short time.

Beauty is a bite that catches the fisher instead of the fish.

What love will do. He—"Where would you like to live after we are married?" She—"As if I cared—anywhere will do, even in a forty-thousand-dollar house on a side street, and we keep only three servants!"

FOR THE SECOND TIME

Caleb Powers Receives a Sentence of Imprisonment For Life

Georgetown, Ky., Oct. 28.—Ex-Secretary of State Caleb Powers has again been convicted of being an accessory before the fact to the murder of Governor William Goebel in January, 1900, and for the second time has been sentenced to imprisonment for life.

The second trial began Oct. 8, continued with three sessions daily, and the court adjourned Saturday night. The present term ended Saturday. Arguments were limited, so that the case went to the jury at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the verdict of guilty following soon.

Powers sat pale and motionless when the verdict was announced by the foreman, B. S. Calvert, his old schoolmate. Opposite Powers, on the other side of the court room, with the attorneys, sat Arthur Goebel, brother of the late governor, with his eyes fixed on the prisoner.

The attorneys of Powers shook his hand, expressing aloud their belief in his innocence.

Women crowded around Powers, embracing and kissing him, and tears were shed. The defense having filed a motion for a new trial, Judge Cantrell, at 4:30 p. m. heard arguments therefor. Then a motion for a new trial was overruled and the case will be appealed. The sentence was read and judgment suspended, pending the decision of the higher tribunal. Powers was taken to Frankfort and committed to jail without bail.

Doctors say that though she is somewhat hysterical, her condition is not at all serious.

Woman Stabbed to Death

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Lizzie Serio, an Italian woman, was horribly murdered last evening, her body being found in the road by a gunner. A stiletto was evidently used in inflicting the wounds that caused her death. Mrs. Serio lived with her husband and one child in Berg's block. Mr. Serio is an old man, while the murdered woman was 49 years of age. The police have been unable to connect anyone with the crime.

Earl Li May Be Recalled

Pekin, Oct. 24.—There is a strong opposition among conservative Chinese officials to Wu Ting Fang, minister at Washington. They consider that his popularity abroad is a proof that he is not sufficiently loyal to the interests of China. It is probable that he will be recalled and given a position on a new board of foreign affairs.

The Old, Old Story

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 23.—Karl Robbins, 16 years old, and Allen Furber, 14, were gunning in Swampscott woods. Furber had a 22 calibre rifle. Forgetting that it was loaded, he pulled the trigger and the bullet struck Robbins, who was sitting on a log, lodging in his bowels. There is no hope for the boy's recovery.

Discouraged by Poor Health

Waltham, Mass., Oct. 23.—The body found in the woods near Hardy's pond was identified yesterday as that of George Wallace of Cambridge. Wallace was 18 years old and for some time he had been in ill health and had been taking treatment for nervous trouble. He attended a Boston business college.

Daddy of All Lobsters

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 23.—A giant crustacean of unknown species, but which from its appearance must be the father of all lobsters from the beginning of time, was found in a scoopful of sand and stone at the excavation at the big Wachusett dam at Clinton. It is 21½ inches long.

A Case of Robbery

Boston, Oct. 23.—Superintendent Leith of the local Pinkerton office says that he has come to the conclusion that the trunk of jewelry valued at $13,000, shipped from Providence to this city on Sept. 28, has been stolen, and not gone astray. Mr. Leith has no trace of the missing property.
